Pain, Passion, Purpose:
Advancing Health Equity & Building a Neurodegenerative Disease
Community

Saturday, Oct. 24
12:30-3 p.m. ET

Adira invites people of color living with Alzheimer's disease, ALS, Huntington's disease, multiple sclerosis, or Parkinson's disease and the people who help provide care for them (family and caregivers) to join us and share their story.

- Learn about the disparities facing people of color impacted by neurodegenerative disease.
- Hear stories about their experiences and share your own in your own words.
- Help guide Adira's funding priorities, so we support the programs that matter to YOU!

This is a free event.

Registration ends Oct. 21.

People registered by 10/21 will receive an event link by email.
